

Church and State: Where Are We Now?

Religious Freedom Roundtable

Thursday, September 21, 2006

7:30 – 9:00 p.m.
Boyd Dining Center
Virginia Wesleyan College
1584 Wesleyan Drive
Norfolk, VA

A distinguished panel of experts in law and religion will discuss recent developments affecting religious freedom and the relationship of church and state. Topics include:

- U.S. Supreme Court rulings on religious freedom
- The Pennsylvania “Intelligent Design” case and related developments
- Impact of national security policy
- Faith-based initiatives and church-state relations
- Sectarian religious expression in the military
- Prayer in state legislatures and local governing bodies

Panelists

Isabelle Kinnard, J.D., Ph.D.

Education Director, Council for America's First Freedom, Richmond, VA

Shaun A. Casey, M.P.A., Th.D.

Associate Professor of Christian Ethics,
Wesley Seminary, Washington, DC

K. Hollyn Hollman, J.D.

General Counsel, Baptist Joint Committee
for Religious Liberty, Washington, DC

Davison M. Douglas, J.D., Ph.D.

Professor of Constitutional Law
William and Mary School of Law

Moderator

Paul B. Rasor, J.D., Ph.D.

Director, Center for the Study of Religious Freedom
Virginia Wesleyan College

Sponsored by:

The Center for the Study of Religious Freedom at Virginia Wesleyan College

(757) 455-3129 ♦ csrf@vwc.edu ♦ www.vwc.edu/csrf

AND

The League of Women Voters of South Hampton Roads

(757) 627-3396 ♦ info@lwv-shr.org ♦ www.lwv-shr.org